

SALVATIONS 2024

Derived from “salvage” and “creations,” Salvations is a Salvage Design Competition that culminates in a one-night gala exhibition celebrating all things salvage. The evening event is complemented by food, an open bar and live music. A reflection of New Orleans, the event invites our community to experience the raw beauty of what already exists in the city we love.

SALVAGE DESIGN COMPETITION

- Furniture, lighting and art handmade by local artists, designers & craftspeople.
- Each piece crafted with 90% reclaimed material.
- Auctioned in benefit of both the designers and the Green Project.

CULTIVATING A CULTURE OF CREATIVE REUSE

Serving New Orleans since 1994, the Green Project’s mission is to promote a culture of creative reuse by diverting usable materials from landfills and cultivating a respect for their value. Our mission is executed through three main pathways: our Salvage Store, Paint Recycling Program, and Environmental Education.

By collecting used building materials and recycling latex paint, the Green Project provides others the opportunity to turn trash to treasure—all while keeping usable materials out of the garbage and toxic chemicals out of nearby land and waterways. By selling used, we can provide affordable building supplies to the community and preserve historic architectural pieces.

This means that every day we reduce the amount of greenhouse gases emitted from landfills and we lower the amount of fossil fuels needed to create new products.

In addition, we provide free hands-on environmental education to K-12 schools through our two core education curriculum—the M.E.S.S. Lab and the Student-led Recycling Initiative—engaging students in thoughtful dialogue and critical problem solving relevant to school standards, and to the city they live in.
