

HOUSEHOLD HAZARDOUS MATERIALS (HHM) COLLECTION DAY PAINT RECLAMATION PROJECT

CITY OF NEW ORLEANS DEPARTMENT OF SANITATION and The Green Project

FREE paint for nonprofits, schools, artists & residents!

For the third year, The Green Project is partnering with the City of New Orleans Department of Sanitation on a Paint Reclamation Project at Household Hazardous Materials (HHM) Collection Day. The project diverts usable paint from disposal; provides nonprofits, artists and residents with usable paint, free of charge; offers New Orleans residents a way to recycle some household hazardous waste; and protects our environment.

At the City's Annual Household Hazardous Materials Collection Day (scheduled for Saturday, October 24, 2020 from 8:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m. at 2829 Elysian Fields Ave.), Orleans Parish residents drop off a significant amount of paint, in addition to other selected items. Usable water-based and oil-based paint will be reclaimed. Paint will then be sorted into like colors for the community to use.

Paint will be available to nonprofits, artists and residents for use within their respective facilities and for their programming as a free community service provided by The Green Project and City of New Orleans. Residents may pick up paint for personal use only on November 5th. Commercial use and contractors are not eligible.

HOW TO PICK UP FREE PAINT:

1. Prior the designated pick up days, nonprofits, churches, artists and schools should complete a Paint Request Form at thegreenproject.org/paint-request-form.
2. Once taken off-site, picked up paint is non-returnable to the City's Recycling Drop Off Center or The Green Project.
3. It is the responsibility of those picking up paint to check for final quality and color determinations, based on their needs.
